Popcorn Bonanza Scheduled

Seventeen beautiful young ladies will be in competition for the title of "Popcorn Princess" in the opening event of the Murray Optimist Club sponsored Popcorn Bonanza being held here this weekend. The "World's Largest Popcorn Ball" will be on display at the Expo Center throughout the weekend.

The Popcorn Princess Pageant will begin at 6 p. m. Friday, April 1, and will be followed by a dance. Both events will be held at the MSU Expo Center, the site of the majority of the events in the three-day celebration.

All proceeds from the Popcorn Bonanza will go to the Calloway County Schools' football program.

Other events scheduled, in addition to Friday's pageant and dance, are a four-wheel drive pull, a softball tournament, a blue grass festival, a tennis tournament, a bean, ham-hock and corn-bread lunch and an antique auto show.

Optimist club members will be distributing free popcorn throughout the celebration.

Four-Wheel Drive Pull

The feature event of the celebration is a four-wheel drive pull that will get underway at 7 p. m. Saturday at the Expo Center. Entries in the pull have already been received from seven states, including some as far away as Iowa.

"We feel this pull will be the biggest four-wheel drive pull ever in this area," Tommy Carraway, co-chairman of the event along with Mike Baker and Jimmy Fain, said.

The four-wheel drive pull will be divided into three classes in two divisions. The drivers will be competing for $2,100 in prize money. Registration for the pull will begin at the Expo Center at 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon. Entry fee will be $15. Admission to the event Saturday night will be $4 for adults and $3 for students.

Carraway pointed out that anyone can pull in the contest and invited local four-wheelers to enter.

Popcorn Princess Pageant

Seventeen local girls are entered in the Popcorn Princess Pageant which will get underway at 6 p. m. Friday at the Expo Center.

Names of the entrants in the Popcorn Princess Pageant will appear in an article in Thursday's Murray Ledger & Times.

Softball Tournament

The softball tournament will feature competition between 21 area softball teams according to Dave Travis, event chairman. The teams will be playing the single-elimination tournament at the Murray-Calloway County Park and play will begin at 9 a. m. Saturday. Playoffs in the softball tournament are expected to continue through Sunday. First and second place teams will be awarded a trophy.

Teams entered in the softball tournament include: D&W Auto Parts, Perry Construction, Murray Merchants, Moose Lodge, Bynum's, Sykes', Fisher-Price Toys, MSU Racer football team, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, S. Service, Sigma Pi, Lambda Chi, Calvert Bank, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Ranger Smith, Pryorsburg, Mr. L's and Tropic Isle.

Tennis Tournament

The tennis tournament will get underway at 9 a. m. Saturday at the courts adjacent to Murray High School. Travis, who is also chairman of the tennis tourney, said that play will be held in men's doubles only due to a lack of interest in other planned divisions.

WORLD'S LARGEST POPCORN BALL—Members of the Murray Optimist Club are busily adding handfuls of popcorn to the World's Largest Popcorn Ball which will be displayed this weekend during the Optimist's Popcorn Bonanza. Left to right are Kenneth Cleaver, Jimmy Fain, Howard Steeley, Kelly Steeley, and club president Junior Cleaver. The popcorn ball is being constructed at a secret location and will go on display for the first time at the Popcorn Princess Pageant Friday night. Benefits from the three-day event will go to the Calloway County Schools' football program.

FOUR-H DELEGATES to the 1977 Kentucky 4-H Older Youth Conference from the Calloway County 4-H Council are, Patti Robinson, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robinson, Murray Route Three, and Chuck Harrison, center, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harrison, Kirksey Route One. On the right is George Hodge, governor of Loyal Order of the Moose, Murray Lodge No. 2011, who presented the 4-H delegates with a check for $205 to help with the expenses of the students who will accompany 215 other delegates from across Kentucky to Washington, D. C., April 9-16, for the conference. While in Washington they will visit many historic sites and monuments, hear, outstanding speakers, discuss ideas on citizenship, and visit with Kentucky Congressmen. The two local delegates are members of the Calloway County Teen Club and students at Calloway County High School.

Edward Villella To Appear In Program

Dancer Edward Villella will be presented in a program here at the Lovett Auditorium, Murray State University, on Saturday, April 2, at 8:15 p. m. as the final attraction of the 1976-77 season of the Murray Civic Music Association.

Villella has been dancing since the age of nine when he discovered ballet on accompanying his sister to the School of American Ballet. He received his B. S. degree in marine transportation at the New York State Maritime College before returning to dancing.

He has held the title of principal dancer with the New York City Ballet for over fifteen years and in addition to his many roles with the company has appeared with the Royal Danish Ballet, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, at the Brussels World's Fair, London Festival Hall, etc. He danced at President Kennedy's inaugural celebrations and has performed for Presidents Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon at the White House.

Dancer Villella has also performed with the National Ballets of Washington and Canada, the Boston Ballet, and is an active member of the President's National Council on the Arts. He is also a teacher and author on dancing, and has appeared on many major television variety shows.

All persons holding memberships in the Murray Civic Music Association and all Murray State students with their identification cards are urged to attend this special program of dancing by Villella on Saturday evening, an association spokesman said.

Edward Villella, ballet dancer, will be the performing artist for the final program of the 1976-77 season of the Murray Civic Music Association on Saturday, April 2, at 8:15 p. m. at the Lovett Auditorium, Murray State University.

Employers To Save On Insurance

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky employers will save an estimated $29 million this year under a workmen's compensation insurance rate decrease approved by Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey.

The Insurance Department deliberated two months on the filing by the National Council on Compensation Insurance, a New York firm which makes rates projections.

"We started out at a rate level slightly in excess of last year and we have ended up with one on the average nearly 25 per cent below what it was in 1976," said James Carigan, an assistant deputy insurance commissioner.

He said Tuesday that this means the average Kentucky employer will find his workmen's compensation policy amended to produce lower costs—to be determined basically by the work classification.

"In general, the premium reduction will be in the neighborhood of 25 per cent as of Jan. 1," he said.

A 17-member review commission appointed by Gov. Julian Carroll worked on the new rates.

The crisis arose when workmen's compensation premiums rose an average of 32.5 per cent because of two court decisions.

McGuffey said his agency's figures show an employer would save an average of 20.4 per cent or 24.6 per cent over the December rates, depending on when their policies expire.

The national council a few months ago sought an 11 per cent increase for state employers.

This was revised at a hearing earlier this month to a 13.8 per cent decrease proposal.

The reduction plan stemmed from estimated effects of a Kentucky Supreme Court decision on workmen's compensation.

It allowed benefits for workers who aggravate previous injuries that are not work-related.

The legislature voided an earlier high court ruling during its special session.

In that case, the court held that minimum weekly benefits for the temporarily or partly disabled should be the same as for the permanently disabled.

The assembly also raised disability benefits from 55 to 66.6 per cent of a worker's average weekly wage.

The governor's review commission will continue to meet to draw up possible new proposals on workmen's compensation for the 1978 General Assembly.

Two File For Office Here

Two persons have filed for office in the May Democratic Primary here, according to the county clerk's office.

Joseph Dolchan, Route Three, has filed for the office of Magistrate in District One.

Paul Richard George, 1628 Farmer, has filed for city council from Ward A.

Hearing Held On Tenn-Tom

Supporters of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway included governors of three states who testified Tuesday before a Carter administration task force in Columbus, Ga., which will recommend future funding of the project.

Locally, Z. C. Enix, a board member on the Kentucky portion of the Tenn-Tom Waterway Authority, and Wayne Spencer, a representative of the Purchase Area Development District, were among those who spoke in support of the waterway.

Mississippi Gov. Cliff Finch, Alabama Gov. George Wallace, and Tennessee Gov. Ray Blanton all urged continuation of the 253-mile project linking the Tennessee River with the Gulf, and recommended that no funding cutbacks be imposed which would delay opening of the corridor past the scheduled 1985 completion date.

Finch pledged "full and continuing support to the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway project" on the basis of economic growth he predicted will occur in Mississippi as the result of the construction.

"The long-term benefits of the waterway to Mississippi and the rest of the nation will not begin to materialize until the waterway is completed, which overwhelmingly justifies as early completion date as possible," Gov. Finch said.

Blanton said completion of the project is "essential to the economy of many of our economically depressed counties" and called for completion of the waterway at the earliest possible time.

Declaring that "We're going to see that this project is continued," Wallace said the waterway will be "contributing economic benefits to the United States a hundred years from now, yes, even a thousand years from now."

Opposition leader Randall Grace, who heads the Tombigbee River Conservation Council, led off opposition testimony claiming that the $1.64 billion project is "unsound economically, socially, and environmentally."

Grace warned that hidden federal costs related to the waterway, which have been appropriated to the Tennessee Valley Authority, Appalachian Regional Commission, and the Department of Housing and Urban Development, would push the project's benefit-to-cost ratio even lower. The current ratio is 1.15 to 1, using a 3.25 interest rate factor, and 87 to 1 using a 6.375 interest rate recommended by the Carter administration.

"It is apparent that the American taxpayer is footing the bill for a much more costly project than is now realized," Grace said.

He also said the loss of productivity of the lands to be destroyed by construction of the waterway will push the operation and maintenance cost for the project higher than the estimated $1.28 million annual figure the U. S. Engineers use.

Enix, the only Calloway County representative on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Authority, issued a plea last week for letters of support to take to the hearing. He said today that he took several letters supporting the project with him, but

Up With People Slated At MSU

"Up With People," an entertaining two hours of music and dancing which includes a broad range of contemporary and traditional material backed by an instrumental section of guitars, percussion, piano and brass, will be presented in Murray April 12.

Up With People is an independent, nonprofit, educational corporation known around the world through the international casts of the show.

The show will be presented at 8 a. m. on Tuesday, April 12 in the Murray State University fieldhouse. The show is being sponsored by the MSU Student Activities Council.

Ron Bullock, a member of the production staff, requested today that persons who can house a member or members of the cast in their homes during their stay here should contact him at 762-6921 days or 767-6430 nights.

Bullock said that housing for two nights, April 11 and 12, would be needed for the 85 cast members in the production.

Tickets to the show which are $3 for adults and $2 for students, are on sale at Bank of Murray, Sunset Boulevard, Chuck's Music Center, and the Student Activities office.

asked again that persons who support the project write their congressmen, senators, and President Carter to request funding for the project. "We still need help," Enix said, "and lots of it."

The project would provide a direct connection from the midwest to the southeastern Gulf through the port of Mobile. It will also tie together 12 river systems in middle America and link them to the Southeastern Gulf, and thus foreign markets.

The waterway would make Paducah 389 miles closer to the Gulf at Mobile. Paducah will even be 65 miles closer to New Orleans via this shortcut. The project is expected to create 21,000 new jobs, many in the Murray area.

The primary impact area of the Tenn-Tom would consist of 165 counties in parts of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Kentucky. The Kentucky impact area is about a dozen counties, principally in the Paducah, Mayfield, and Murray area.

An estimated 28 million tons of traffic will move on the Tennessee-Tombigbee during its first year of operation, which is set for 1986. This will be at an average savings of $2.29 per ton, for a total estimated annual savings of $64 million. That figure is projected to grow to 44 million tons and over $85 million in savings by 1991.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1977

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
A fine project begun recently will bog down unless you keep it in mind, mull over details, plan a tighter fitting of its "jigsaw" pieces.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Adjustments, revisions, quick changes may be the order of the day. Take all in stride. Distribute energies judiciously; don't argue where tact, finesse will win.

GERMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Be alert to those who would mislead you, do not expect too much in the way of help from others and do not scatter energies. Taking such precautions, you can make a good go of things.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Searching for offbeat avenues toward achievement could lead you astray now. Do the best you can and gains will be yours.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
There will be tendencies to rush into visionary schemes, impulsiveness generally. Avoid. Put your guard up early, and KEEP it up.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Patience will be needed in a few tricky spots but day, on the whole, has a big potential. Avoid undue haste, anxiety.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Be tactful in family circles, all personal contacts. Recurrences of old hassles are possible if you are not on guard.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Don't force issues now. The odds are against you and you'll gain more by waiting — and studying. But look ahead confidently. Avoid negative thinking.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
You may be tempted to take an unexpected fling in money matters and, if your judgment is as good as it usually is, it should pay off.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Do not be impulsive, but neither hold off action because of uncertainty over your abilities—Curb doubts and fears. You DO have ability: Back it with self-confidence.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Inspiration at a peak now. A unique idea you have can be carried off with just the right touch of ingenuity to make it work.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Keep your head and maintain the pace that's best for you. Don't let others distract you with ideas of doubtful worth — especially if they involve heavy spending.

YOU BORN TODAY are a quick-thinking, enthusiastic individual, endowed with tremendous vitality and initiative. Aries is a Sign of both creativity and practicality, so you can be equally adept in a business enterprise or in an artistic career. You are gregarious, outgoing in personality and a born leader and organizer. In choosing a career, many fields are open to you, but your most outstanding successes would probably be achieved in the worlds of politics, literature, the theater, art or music. BRAN PAN BREAD
If there's any leftover, wrap in foil and reheat.
1 cup flour, fork-stir
— before measuring
— 2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup unprocessed and unsalted miller's bran, available at "health" stores
1 large egg
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted and cooled
3/4 cup milk
On wax paper stir together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in bran. In a medium mixing bowl beat together the egg, honey and butter until blended; add the flour mixture and the milk; stir until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. Turn into a buttered 8 by 8 by 2 inch cake pan. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 15 minutes. Top will not be browned. Cut in squares and serve hot with butter and honey.

'Local Light' Now On Display At Gallery

LOCAL LIGHT is an exhibit of photographs compiled by Guy Mendes with a grant from the Kentucky Arts Commission. The display is now at the Clara M. Eagle Gallery 4th Floor, Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, Murray State University. The exhibit will be at the gallery through April 13.

The collection of about sixty prints represent the works of some twenty photographers whose pictures cover over one hundred years of photography in Kentucky. The show includes pictures taken by Marie Post-Walcott, a photographer for the Farm Securities Administration and Russell Lee who worked for the Solid Fuels Administration for War in 1941.

KEEP LUGGAGE LOOKING NICE. For cleaning instructions, follow these guidelines: — Vinyls, fiberglass and uncoated linen, cotton, denim and canvas can be given a light wet cleaning with soap and water. — You can preserve fabrics coated with clean plastic or stain repellent by following a washing with a light application of liquid wax. — Clean smooth leather with saddle soap; after it has dried thoroughly, rub in paste wax or neutral shoe cream. On colored leather you can rub mild soap suds on the surface, followed by neutral shoe cream. — Don't oil locks, hinges and other hardware. You can remove scratches or rust from coated metal parts by rubbing the areas lightly with fine steel wool and then resealing with clean nail polish. — Judy Hettermann, Hickman.

Mini gardens are becoming more popular each year. Useful when space is limited, this alternative locates vegetables in vacant spots around the yard. Some possible sites are near the kitchen door, along the sunny side of the house or garage, around the outdoor grill, in a flower bed, or along a fence. Placed this way, vegetables serve a dual purpose as both food and landscape plants — Pat Cutsinger, Benton.

Golden Age Club Plans Meet Friday

The Golden Age Club will meet Friday, April 1, at twelve noon at the social hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Mary Gertzen, president, said a nominating committee will be appointed at the business meeting. Games will be played and members are requested to bring gifts for prizes.

A potluck luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Meme Mattingly, Mrs. Mary Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mears, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier in charge of the arrangements.

PINE TREES OFFER MANY ADVANTAGES Set out pine trees to have as a background, as a screen for less desirable views, for birds, as fragrances, foliage for Christmas decorating and to have pine needles for ground cover. When pine trees are set on the north side of the house, they serve as wind breakers in the winter months and can trap the southern breezes inside your lawn in summer. — Juanita Amonett, Paducah.

PREVENTING ENTRY OF INSECTS in to your home is often easier than getting rid of the pests. Screens on doors and windows will keep out many pests that may attempt to fly or crawl in from outdoors. You may also carry insects into your home on things you buy. Check sacks of potatoes, beverage cases, other big grocery items, furniture and clothing before you bring them into the home — Maxine Griffin, Clinton.

Children need to learn about money and they need help from you in learning how to handle money wisely. A child needs some explanation of why money is needed, what it can do and how the family plans its use. Then he needs an opportunity to use money, to decide and spend for himself. The child must learn that all things he gets from stores must be paid for with money. He needs to learn that special things must be saved for. Start by having him save a few pennies to buy things he wants very much. Remember that a very small child finds large numbers and future events are confusing. When your child makes a mistake with money, remember that grownups make mistakes too. His mistakes now may teach him a lesson in money management that will be very helpful later on. — Sue Fraser, Bardwell.

Dresses are here to stay. The popular length will be just below the knee. They are soft styles, with waistline emphasis. The peasant dress is very popular for spring. Pants will be seen for both day and evening wear. They will be slimmer as cigarette pants gain popularity. — Dean Roper, Mayfield.

East Elementary School second grade students of Mrs. Doll Redick planted a Chinese Chestnut tree in the Environmental Learning Center on the school grounds. The students anticipate harvesting chestnuts from the tree before graduating from East in the eighth grade. Students are Rena Hodges, Cliff Pittman, Dana Armstrong, Bryan Green, and Kim Dugger.

Mrs. Hortin Speaks At Sisterhood Meet

Mrs. L. J. Hortin presented the program at the luncheon meeting held by Chapter M of P.E.O. Sisterhood held on Saturday, March 19, at the home of Mrs. Paul Stumm.

"Outstanding American Women" was the subject of the program presented by Mrs. Hortin who is a writer, researcher, and speaker. In her opening remarks she reminded the women that John Mac Carter, a native of Murray, is on the United Nations Commission to promote the interests and needs of women.

Mrs. Hortin told of the American Hall of Fame which was created with funds contributed by Helen Gould Shepard and which is administered by City College of New York City and New York University. Members are chosen on the basis of outstanding contribution to American progress.

The lives of several women, whose names appear in the American Hall of Fame, were sketched, the first being Mary Lyon who, in 1836, founded Mount Holyoke Female Seminary, the forerunner of Mount Holyoke College. Thus she is credited with opening the door to college education for women.

Mrs. Olga Freeman, president, presided. The invocation was given by Mrs. Henry McKenzie and a period of devotion was conducted by the chaplain, Mrs. William S. Major.

Installed as vice-president was Mrs. Paul Stumm who was absent at the regular installation service at the last meeting. The installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. McKenzie.

Announcement was made of the next meeting to be held on Monday, April 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. McKenzie with the program to be presented by Mrs. Lewis Bessing.

Opening Up Elections

Down through American history, the trend of government has been to open up the polling booth to more and more citizens of all ranks, races and categories. First the property ownership requirement was abolished, then the racial barrier, then restrictions against women. Only six years ago the voting age was lowered to 18 in all states.

Given a heritage like this, it is not surprising that President Carter has sent Congress a new package of election reforms that he believes could stir up public enthusiasm for public affairs, encourage more eligible voters to go to the polls and reduce the influence of the monied interests in federal election campaigns.

Well worthy of immediate support is his proposal that would extend the present system of public financing of presidential election campaigns to congressional campaigns, beginning in 1978. Candidates then could run for the House and Senate without relying on gifts from special interest groups with political axes to grind.

Less defensible are proposals that the Hatch Act be weakened so that most of the nation's 2.8 million federal employees can take part in partisan politics and that federal law be changed so that state political committees can raise and spend money on presidential candidates during general elections.

The Hatch Act was passed in 1939 to protect civil servants from being pressured by their bosses into becoming foot soldiers for ambitious politicians around the country. It should be kept intact.

As to presidential fundraising, it seems unwise to amend the new election reform law simply because some party workers didn't think they had enough horns to blow or funny hats to wear during the '76 campaign.

The new law was designed to discourage most private fundraising during general election campaigns. And we see no reason to start chipping away at that idea.

On Carter's proposal to amend the Constitution to abolish the Electoral College and instead elect the President by majority of the popular vote, there ought not be much opposition.

Three times in our history we've wound up with Presidents (John Quincy Adams, Rutherford B. Hayes, and Benjamin Harrison) who scored fewer votes than their chief rivals but won anyway because of our system, which has two jokers in it: Electoral college votes are apportioned among states according to the size of their congressional delegations (favoring less populous states), and the candidate who carries a state takes all the electoral votes, even if his victory is narrow.

In last November's election, a shift in just a few thousand votes in Ohio and Hawaii would have meant victory for Gerald Ford, even though he ran 1.7 million votes behind Carter. Then there's the possibility that electors, though pledged to a certain candidate, may break their pledge and vote for their personal favorites.

By contrast, direct election of the President by simple majority of all American voters would be a clear, definitive, no-quibbling statement. "Here is the person we want."

But look for no rush job on this: the proposal must be approved by two-thirds of both the U. S. Senate and House, then ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, a process that takes years.

The most controversial part of the President's election reform package is that voters be permitted to register at the polls on election days for all federal elections.

All a citizen 18 years old or more would have to do would be show up at the neighborhood polling place, offer proof positive of identity, and vote. Stiff penalties — five years in prison, $10,000 fine, or both — for fraud or multiple voting would be imposed.

Minnesota and Wisconsin already have in operation comparable universal registration, and North Dakota holds elections with no registration at all. Voter turnouts, as a result, are in the 66 to 72 per cent bracket already, compared to the national average of 53.

We expect election officials to predict that the heavens will fall if this system goes national. After all, red tape, delay and officiousness are stocks in their trade. We'd rather think of the benefits of mass participation that would come with making voting as easy as possible.

The present cumbersome procedures stem from the bygone era when party bosses and their henchmen duped and bribed and stuffed their way to election victory. Nobody can seriously believe we can return to those days.

Residents should have no trouble identifying themselves at the polls. Poll officials and watchers might be forced to be a bit more alert, but that should be no strain.

Interestingly, the Carter registration proposal has been endorsed by congressional leaders of both parties. If passed, it would cover only federal elections, though states would be encouraged to follow suit. We hope the Ky. legislature follows the Washington debate on this issue, and that Kentucky adopts the means to get more and more qualified citizens into the polling booths.

We doubt that voting will ever be as universal as tax-paying, but we'd like to see the gap closed.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, March 30, the 89th day of 1977. There are 276 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1867, U.S. Secretary of State William Seward and the Russian minister to the United States reached agreement on the American purchase of Alaska for $7.2 million.

On this date:

In 1822, a territorial government was established in Florida.

In 1842, ether reputedly was used as an anesthetic for the first time by a doctor in Long Jefferson, Ga.

In 1870, Texas was readmitted into the Union after the Civil War.

Ten years ago: The North Atlantic Treaty Organization formally closed its military headquarters in France.

Five years ago: Britain imposed direct rule over Northern Ireland after more than half a century of semi-autonomous status.

One year ago: A general strike by Arab citizens in northern Israel erupted into violent clashes with security forces in more than a dozen villages.

Today's birthdays: President McGeorge Bundy of the Ford Foundation is 58. Former CIA Director Richard Helms is 64.

Thought for today: The worst vice of a fanatic is his sincerity. — Oscar Wilde, Irish writer, 1854-1900.

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens of all ages. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write HEARTLINE, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Senior citizens will receive prompt replies, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am 63 years old and I am on Social Security benefits. As you know, people on Social Security must watch their income. One way I try to do this is to order merchandise by mail. I am sometimes afraid to do this because just about all of these companies make you pay in advance. I cannot afford to be "ripped off" by a bad company. Do you have any suggestions to keep this from happening? R. M.

ANSWER: The main thing to do when ordering merchandise by mail is to check the reliability of the company first. You can do this by calling the Better Business Bureau to see if there are any complaints against the company.

Obviously, there are many more things you should do before ordering by mail, so Heartline has compiled a list of things to help protect you against mail order fraud. For this free list write: Heartline — Mail Order, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HEARTLINE: My only child and I have been receiving Social Security benefits on my late husband's record. She is 17 and is getting married next month, but her husband will live with us and be supported by me for a few months. Under these circumstances, can we continue to receive benefits? F. D.

ANSWER: No. When your daughter marries, her benefit ends. Your benefit also ends unless you are age 50 to 59 and disabled or age 60 and entitled to receive disabled or aged widow's benefits. Your benefit as a mother ends since your daughter (if married) is no longer considered to be in your care. Benefits to both would also end when she reaches 18 unless she was a full-time student, in which case her benefits continue and yours end. In any event, depending on your age, your benefits could continue or begin again later as a widow as explained above.

HEARTLINE: I am reaching 65 and I am going to apply for Supplemental Security Income. I have never visited a Social Security office before. What papers should I bring with me when I file my application? S. R.

ANSWER: The exact evidence you will need will depend on your situation. In general you should bring with you any of the following: your Social Security number; documents showing your date of birth; if you own property, your last tax bill or other papers showing its value; any income tax papers for this year or last year; and any bank books or other records you may have that show the amounts of your earnings, savings and other income.

Do not delay, however, in calling or visiting your Social Security office. The people there will gladly assist you in obtaining the papers you need.

TODAY'S TOPIC: Twisted Foreign Policy

America's defense and foreign policy is in increasing disarray as a result of new directions from the Carter administration.

A real shocker was the announcement that Brazil, traditionally the staunchest U. S. ally in Latin America, had canceled its 25-year-old military assistance treaty with the United States. Brazil was outraged at a "human rights" report on its activities. It also was disturbed by the Carter administration's high-handed effort to deny Brazil nuclear fuel reprocessing facilities.

Only days before Brazil's action Brady Tyson, a U.S. delegate to a United Nations meeting in Switzerland apologized for U.S. efforts to overturn the Marxist regime of Salvador Allende. Though the White House said the apology wasn't authorized, it turned out that the irresponsible diplomat was a protégé of U. N. Ambassador Andrew Young and had been active with Young in protest movements in the 1960s. Such is the background of the Carter-era diplomats!

Ambassador Young continues to sound off on all sorts of issues in an irresponsible manner. For example, he said that U.S. troops might be used as part of a U.N. "peace keeping" force in Rhodesia and declared that there would be "civil war" in the United States if America sided with South Africa if that country came under attack.

Certainly, Mr. Young hasn't any mandate to even suggest the commitment of American troops in Africa — something the American people don't want under any circumstances. The lack of a mandate — and authorization for the statement — was underscored when White House Press Secretary Jody Powell declared that use of American forces in Rhodesia isn't a policy option.

But Mr. Young continues to make headlines with his reckless remarks. And he sits on the National Security Council. The American people have the right to ask: For whom is Ambassador Young speaking when he makes his inflammatory comments?

The growing concern about the direction of administration defense and foreign policy was manifested when 40 members of the U. S. Senate voted against President Carter's nominee for nuclear arms negotiator, Paul C. Warnke.

This heavy vote against Mr. Warnke, who is perceived as "soft" on the nuclear balance and American security needs, indicates that a sizable body of conservative and centrist senators from both parties are fearful of dangerous administration concessions to the Soviets. The vote on Mr. Warnke indicates that a giveaway strategic arms limitation agreement could be blocked in the Senate, where a treaty requires a two-thirds vote for approval.

What's most disturbing is the overall pattern of Carter administration diplomacy. While Mr. Carter began his administration with promises of U.S. strength second to none, the new budget makes a deep cut in funds for long-range defense projects. Various vital weapons systems will be curtailed or reduced.

On the foreign policy front, Mr. Carter is bent on courting and flattering Third World nations which are hostile to the United States and other capitalist states. Ambassador Young is allowed to make a closer identification with unstable black African states a centerpiece of American foreign policy. While stressing "human rights" issues in friendly Latin countries such as Brazil and Chile, the administration ignores the bloody record of political murders and other atrocities in African states such as Nigeria and Chad as well as the Marxist character of such regimes as Tanzania and the People's Republic of Mozambique. There's no national security logic to the foreign policy being developed by the Carter administration.

Administration eagerness to make Castro's Cuba acceptable is profoundly disturbing to Americans who realize that the tyranny in the island is as bad as it was in 1959 when anti-communists were slaughtered by Fidel. Ambassador Young's desire for the U.S. to have ties with Communist Vietnam is of a piece with the policy on Cuba.

From the end of World War II until this January, the United States was the leader of the world struggle against communist totalitarianism. The advanced, capitalist nations of the world also saw the U.S. as the leader of progressive economic and social forces. Since January, American foreign policy has been given a new twist. The cause of freedom is suffering.

We'd like to believe that the U. S. ambassador to the United Nations was misunderstood.

But Andrew Young reiterated recently an earlier statement that the First Amendment should be bent to permit restriction of news coverage of such situations as the violence displayed by the Hanafi Moslems in Washington.

"I wish there could be a law..." he said.

We can understand and sympathize with the ambassador's concern that such stories are "advertising to neurotic people" who are inspired to attempt "suicidal and ridiculous acts." We will even concede that overplay of terrorist activity can, as Young contends, create "a climate of violence for ourselves."

We will acknowledge, too, that print and broadcast media frequently are manipulated by irresponsible terrorists who depend upon publicity to achieve their uncertain goals.

Would government manipulation be preferable? The answer, obviously, is a firm "no."

Young, given the opportunity for second thoughts, backed down somewhat. "There should be self-restraint on the part of the media," he said.

Most journalists agree, but the decision must be left to the media if a free press is to survive.

One trouble with speed-reading is by the time you realize a book is boring, you've already finished it.

O+O

The agony of the Vietnam war lingers in the unresolved question of the fate of up to 2,500 Americans still missing in Indochina.

Although an accounting was promised as part of the 1973 Paris peace accords, North Vietnamese leaders have been reluctant to cooperate in a case-by-case review — until recently.

Hanoi wants membership in the United Nations for a consolidated Vietnam — a bid denied three times by a Washington veto.

President Carter has made settlement of the MIA issue a condition for opening further diplomatic relations.

A commission led by United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock has been on a mission to Southeast Asia in an effort to end the uncertainty of the families of those missing in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

The group has no diplomatic goals.

"We come only to find the missing," one member said.

It is a small enough price to demand of Hanoi to enter the global family of nations.

BILL AUTHORIZES $45 MILLION FOR BIKEWAYS

Rep. Edward L. Koch (N. Y.) "...On January 10, 1977, Congressman Tim Wirth and I introduced H. R. 955, the Bikeway Transportation Act of 1977 which would authorize the Secretary of Transportation to make grants for the construction of bikeways to be located in urbanized areas or to connect urbanized areas with national, State, or local parks, seashores, or recreational areas."

"The bill would authorize a total of $45 million, $22.5 million per year to be funded from the Highway Trust Fund, and $22.5 million per year to be funded per fiscal year from general revenues."

Besides saving energy, the use of bicycles by commuters can reduce traffic congestion, high noise levels, and air pollution."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

$45 million authorized for Bikeways is just the tip of the iceberg. Nothing is approved for maintenance. Light bikeway pavement construction is not intended for motor traffic. But heavy trucks encroach where the trail is adjacent to the highway. The bikeway is used for road scrapers, snow removal trucks, rural mail carriers, etc. The continued expense of maintenance, no small item, becomes the local taxpayers problem, necessitating a possible increase in general real estate tax millage. As the man said, "There is no such thing as a free lunch."

The Bicycle lobby is represented by Collier, Shannon, Rill, Edwards & Scott, 1055 Thomas Jefferson St., N. W., Washington, D. C. 20007.

Isn't It The Truth

As a nation of worriers we have become awfully uneasy over pollution, but we don't talk up a willingness to pay the price for pure air, pure water, pure scenery and pure government — not at the expense of lesser profits. The fact is that, as Al Smith once said, nobody wants to shoot Santa Claus.

Grim Picture Painted Of Mail Service In 1985

WASHINGTON (AP) — Your mail won't be delivered on Saturday, more of your tax money will go toward subsidizing the Postal Service and you will have to pay 22 cents for every first-class letter you mail.

This is the grim picture of the mail service in 1985 as drawn by a federal commission studying the future of the financially troubled Postal Service, sources said Monday.

The commission's recommendations to Congress are due by April 18, but participants said the panel has voted to recommend:

—Ending Saturday mail

delivery to save $400 million per year.

—Increasing taxpayer subsidies by removing a ceiling imposed at the time the Postal Service was reorganized from the old Post Office Department in 1971.

The chances of Congress approving the recommendations appear slim.

But without these measures, the first-class rate would have to be increased to 28 cents by 1985 to cover the sharply rising cost of delivering the mail, sources said the commission determined.

Under the commission recommendations, the first-class rate would be held to "only" 22 cents per letter by 1985, the sources said.

First-class rates jumped from 10 to 13 cents on Dec. 31, 1975.

One commission member acknowledged that the recommendations will be unpopular. "We decided not to pay attention to what would be politically popular. We decided to recommend what we felt is needed," he said.

But, he added, "I don't think Congress is willing to accept elimination of Saturday delivery."

The commission decided not to make a recommendation on whether money-losing rural post offices should be closed, the sources said. The Postal Service has talked about closing some of its 30,000 post offices as an economy move, but there has been heavy opposition from Congress members representing rural districts.

Snyder Says Man Has Knowledge Of King Plot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rep. Gene Snyder, R-Ky., says the House assassinations committee has "interrogated" for a second time a man who claims knowledge of an alleged plot by Louisville police and FBI agents to assassinate Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Committee investigators questioned the man "in the past day or two" for nearly three hours, the congressman said Tuesday.

Snyder said he was told by committee investigators that the man "didn't break down" during the interrogation and "they are taking the report seriously — that's what they tell me."

Since he first disclosed two weeks ago that he had been approached by the retired police officer, Snyder has refused to identify him.

However, Mary Baird, 44, of Louisville, confirmed that it was her husband, Clifton Baird, 50, who told Snyder of the alleged plot. She confirmed it was her husband after The Kentucky Post, quoting unnamed sources, identified him.

Mrs. Baird has refused to talk to reporters for a week. Baird himself has been unavailable for comment.

Snyder has refused to confirm the Louisville police department was the one named by Baird. However, Snyder quoted a letter from the man as saying the allegations involved a police department from which he retired several years ago. Baird retired from the Louisville Police Department in 1975 after 27 years service.

Snyder said "several prominent members" of the police department implicated by Baird were named in the allegation.

"I determined in my mind that he was not a kook and that he was a legitimate type citizen," Snyder said. "I have talked to some members of the committee and some of the staff people who have talked to him in the past day or two."

He said he has no idea where Baird is or whether he has been told not to talk with reporters.

U. S. Atty. George Long has told the Justice Department about the allegations, but no federal investigation has been ordered.

Snyder said he was contacted in late February by a man who claimed that at least six police officers and several FBI agents were involved in the alleged plot. Snyder said he listened to a copy of a tape recording the man said he made when he allegedly was offered $500,000 while sitting in a car to kill the late Dr. King.

King was assassinated in Memphis, Tenn., in 1968, and James Earl Ray is serving 99 years in prison for the murder.

Snyder said a letter from the man along with the tape recording are in the hands of the committee.

"It was pretty much inaudible," Snyder said of the copy of the tape he heard. "I heard some talk about King and money, enough to make me think that it needs to be looked into, that's all."

Snyder was against extending financing for the House Select Committee on Assassinations before the man told him of the alleged plot. But the congressman says he has changed his mind and wants the committee funded for two more years.

Mrs. Baird told The Associated Press last week that her husband told Snyder of the alleged plot because he "wanted to know why someone asked him" to kill the civil rights leader. She said it had been "bothering him."

Lady Attorney Files Discrimination Charges

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Another allegation of sex discrimination within a state agency has come to light.

The latest charge has been lodged by an attorney in the state Department of Transportation.

The previous complaint, involving two women applicants for the state police, is pending before the Kentucky Commission on Human Rights.

Phyllis L. Robinson, the state lawyer, said Tuesday that despite two setbacks, she intends to pursue her case.

Both the state Personnel Board and the Transportation Department's equal employment opportunity coordinator have rejected her allegations.

However, she said she plans to file a revised petition in an effort to obtain a personnel board hearing.

"I don't think I'm a troublemaker," she said. "I think if I were truly incompetent, they could fire me."

The case arose from an across-the-board pay increase granted last fall to all state attorneys who had been admitted to the bar in the previous two years.

Actually, it was an upgrading of such positions, Miss Robinson said, and her name was submitted at the time along with other qualified applicants.

Then, she said it was withdrawn by Ed Hancock, her supervisor and a former state attorney general.

Hancock alleged Miss Robinson had made an error of judgment in a federal court case. She responded that she has saved the state a great deal of money in those cases.

"The thrust of my argument is that woman professionals seem to be treated somewhat differently (than their male colleagues)," Miss Robinson said.

Hancock said his action against Miss Robinson did not involve sex discrimination because in the same move he approved upgrading of another woman attorney in the Louisville district office.

"I also approved (Miss Robinson's) probationary increment last July, which gave her permanent status," Hancock said.

He added that since he became supervisor of the legal affairs office in transportation last May, he has approved 34 promotions or favorable changes for women and 14 for men.

Miss Robinson, 30, is a former social worker. She first was employed by the Transportation Department as an acting district attorney at Manchester.

State personnel officials have not released any information about the case since it started, although such data is available to anyone making inquiries.

Miss Robinson said she is not seeking publicity. "But I ought to be able to stand the heat if I file the complaint."

Documents show that on March 11, the Personnel Board stated Miss Robinson had failed to make a case. It gave her 20 days to file another appeal.

Hancock said Miss Robinson makes $13,200 a year.

National News Briefs

HOUSTON (AP) — After an uproar that began when Nikki Van Hightower was criticized for backing abortion and the Equal Rights Amendment, the city council has voted to abolish her job as Houston's official women's advocate. But Mrs. Hightower says the action may violate her civil rights. And Mayor Fred Hofheinz, who first persuaded the council to create the position, said there may be legal problems with the council's action.

MIAMI (AP) — Despite a couple's plea that people shouldn't have to pay to pray, their synagogue filed suit and now a judge has ordered Nina and Richard Kaufman to pay $90 in back dues. "Religion's on trial here," Mrs. Kaufman told the court Tuesday. "You're blackmailed. You can't enter the temple to praise God." But Sheldon Mills, executive director of Temple Beth David, said the suit for 1974-75 membership dues involved a contractual obligation, not religion.

Washington Roundup

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret round of coffee-shop diplomacy two years ago led the United States and Cuba to ease trade and travel restrictions and prompted Havana to free some imprisoned U.S. citizens. The high-level talks, initiated several months after Gerald R. Ford became President, were interrupted by Cuba's intervention in Angola's civil war. The talks were revealed by the State Department on Tuesday as new, publicly announced U.S.-Cuba discussions on fishing rights continued in New York.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a first-round loss, the AFL-CIO will press ahead with its biggest legislative drive in decades. Among labor's goals are repeal of state "right-to-work" laws, collective bargaining rights for public employees, a $3-per-hour minimum wage and changes in the National Labor Relations Act to make it easier to organize workers and negotiate contracts.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Violent crime declined in virtually every corner of the country last year, but a surge in thefts in some big cities prevented the over-all national crime rate from falling, the FBI reports. Preliminary statistics for 1976 show no change from the previous year in the number of crimes reported to state and local police. It marked the first time in five years that the crime rate did not increase.

Foreign Roundup

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) — Two survivors of the jumbo jetliner collision died during the night, raising the death toll in aviation's worst disaster to 577. There were 323 Americans among the dead, according to airline sources. Meanwhile, a Dutch investigator admitted that the KLM 747 airliner that collided with a Pan American jet as the Dutch plane was trying to take off at Tenerife airport in the Canary Islands had not been cleared for takeoff. But he claimed the American 747 should not have been on the runway where it was hit, a claim Pan Am disputed.

MOSCOW (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko agreed to set up "follow-on working groups" to continue the discussions. Vance is holding in Moscow on issues other than arms control. It was the first concrete achievement of the first visit to Moscow by President Carter's secretary of state. Vance said the Russians postponed further discussion of the central issue of his visit; limitation of nuclear arms, until today.

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — The Zaire army staff has fled the copper-mining center of Kolwezi in southern Zaire to escape from Katangan invaders approaching the mines, unofficial sources report. All Americans in the Kolwezi area except four Protestant missionaries were reported to have been evacuated also. The missionaries along with some 4,000 Belgians in the area refused to leave.

Let's Stay Well

Treatment for Keratosis

By F.J.L. Blasigame, M.D.

Q: Mr. L.V. writes about a solar keratosis that was recently removed from his skin. He wants to know if the growth is cancerous and if it will tend to recur and spread.

A: A solar keratosis is a thickened area in the outer layer of the skin. The cells are abnormal and are regarded as a low-grade, nonaggressive tumor. Some authorities regard keratosis as precancerous.

When these growths are completely removed (by surgery, electric needle cautery, curettage — scraping away — or local chemicals), cure results without the danger of recurrence. However, the skin should be protected against sunlight, which will tend to cause a similar growth to recur.

Early treatment is desirable because it usually can eradicate a keratosis with little or no scarring.

Tight Girdles and Health

Q: Mrs. C. McM. writes that she is "approaching 60 years of age" and asks whether regularly wearing a girdle can be harmful. She says it is comfortable and helps her appearance.

A: During respiration, the air is drawn in by expansion of the chest cage by elevation of the ribs (thoracic breathing) and by the diaphragm contracting downward expanding the abdomen (abdominal breathing). A girdle increases the resistance to enlargement of the abdomen with the intake of air.

Support from a girdle should not be sufficiently tight to prevent adequate deep, normal breathing.

When a girdle is worn, the usual work of the abdominal muscles is less. If such disuse is extensive, they will become flabby.

If you wear a girdle, have its tightness only sufficient to help your appearance. Also, remove the girdle when you are at home and at ease, allowing your muscles to give your abdominal support.

Even better, you might well consider regular exercises that can strengthen the muscles of your abdominal wall. Before starting any exercise program, it is preferable to have it okayed by your physician. Exercise may help you reduce the need of wearing a girdle, especially if you keep your weight at a normal level.

Open Windows While Sleeping?

Q: Mr. T.S. wants to know if sleeping with a window open has any health advantages.

A: The healthiest way for you to sleep is that which gives you satisfying rest.

It is untrue that oxygen or freshness of the air is inadequate when the window is closed. With ventilation in most modern homes, the air often will be cleaner, and the temperature and humidity may be controlled. These factors usually increase your comfort and assist you in sleeping more adequately with only a limited amount of light cover.

Open windows allow outside noises to disturb sleep, especially in urban areas.

In these days of high energy costs, you should remember that the benefits of indoor heating and air conditioning may be lost if a window is left open during sleeping hours.

Youngblood Homers On First Trip To Plate For Cardinals

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

What can Joel Youngblood do for an encore?

Youngblood has been a member of the St. Louis Cardinals for one day. He has had one at bat, seen one pitch ... and slammed one home run.

The 25-year-old outfielder, who failed to hit a homer in 57 official at-bats with the world champion Cincinnati Reds last season, was traded to St. Louis Monday.

Tuesday, he socked a 375-foot homer in the ninth inning, giving the Cards a 1-0 exhibition triumph over the Houston Astros.

Meanwhile, Bob Forsch, Al Hrabosky and Mike Sutton blanked the Astros on five hits.

Gary Nolan, who still is with the Reds, probably wished he were elsewhere Tuesday. The Texas Rangers roughed him up for 11 runs and 15 hits in four-plus innings as they pounded the Reds 13-5.

Elsewhere, Boston's Jim Rice and Cleveland's Bill Melton boosted their spring home run totals to six apiece. Rice, who has four in his last three games, cracked two and drove in five runs as the Red Sox trounced the Minnesota Twins 9-2. Melton settled for one in the Indians' 6-4 victory over San Francisco. Randy Elliott, the Giants' rookie sensation, went 2-for-2 — a single and double — and boosted his amazing spring batting average to .659 on 25 hits in 38 at-bats.

On the mound, Kansas City's Paul Splittorff allowed one hit in six innings as the Royals blanked the Chicago White Sox 4-0. Ken Holtzman surrendered two hits in six innings of the New York Yankees' 3-1 decision over the Toronto Blue Jays, and Phil Niekro yielded three hits in six innings as the Atlanta Braves defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3-0.

Philadelphia's Tug McGraw pitched out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the bottom of the ninth inning, preserving the Phillies' 2-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

California's Frank Tanana was touched for four runs and 12 hits in seven innings but batterymate Ike Hampton homered twice and the Angels pounded the Seattle Mariners 12-4.

Detroit got home runs from Mickey Stanley, Ben Oglivie, Rusty Staub and Willie Horton but the Pittsburgh Pirates ripped rookie Bob Sykes for six runs in the third inning and defeated the Tigers 8-6.

Dave Cash's two-run homer in the eighth inning lifted the Montreal Expos over the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5, and the Chicago Cubs edged the Oakland A's 9-8 when Bruce Sember doubled in the 10th inning and scored on a single by Joe Wallis.

In other training camp developments:

—The Red Sox placed centerfielder Fred Lynn on the disabled list because of a torn ankle ligament. He is expected to be out of action until the third or fourth week of April.

—Pitcher Mark Fidrych of the Tigers was scheduled to be examined at a Detroit hospital today for possible cartilage damage to his left knee.

—The Giants signed pitcher Jim Barr to a two-year contract, while Cincinnati third baseman Pete Rose, who has been demanding a $400,000 salary, told the Reds if he is not signed by opening day, his price will go up $25,000 every 30 days.

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

They're all talking about how the California Angels may have bought themselves a divisional title along with their free agents.

They're talking about how the Kansas City Royals have established themselves as the team to beat simply because nobody in the division beat them to the top a year ago.

They're talking about how the restocked Texas Rangers may be ready to make their move, or how the Minnesota Twins have kids with real potential, or how the Oakland A's aren't really all that bad despite the superstar exodus, or ...

It's all talk—and it all points to the clear fact that nothing's clear in the American League West this year. With the exception of the Chicago White Sox and the expansion Seattle Mariners, nobody seems to have been written off. In other words, nobody seems to know what's going to happen. And that makes for pennant races.

Gene Autry's money has certainly given the Angels a shot in the arm and his acquisitions—Joe Rudi, Bobby Grich and Don Baylor—give them a shot at their first winning season since 1970, the last time they finished as high as third.

With Rudi, a healthy Bobby Bonds and a developing Bruce Bochte, California is certainly sound in the outfield. The infield, though, leaves some questions.

Beyond Grich, a shortstop with unusual power, the Angels don't seem all that settled. It could be Baylor at first base and Tony Solaita as the designated hitter, or it could be the other way around. Ron Jackson at third and Jerry Remy at second have yet to pitch in with consistent production.

Half a dozen men, including Andy Etchebarren and Terry Humphrey, are scrambling for the catching job. Whoever wins it will catch some pretty good pitchers—and some pretty questionable ones, too.

Frank Tanana, 19-10 with a .244 earned-run average last year, seems to have swiped the "ace" label from Nolan Ryan. The fireballing Ryan is still a threat to strike out everybody and throw a no-hitter each time he starts. But he's also still a threat to ruin himself with wildness and sore arms. It all happened last year. Ryan won 17 games and had a league-high 327 strikeouts and seven shutouts. He also had a league-high 18 losses and 183 walks to go along with his 3.36 ERA.

Beyond those two are young pitchers like Paul Hartzell and Don Kirkwood with promise but, as yet, no production.

The Royals, the oddsmakers say, are co-favored with California. Kansas City lost 15-game winner Al Fitzmorris to Cleveland and got 15-game loser Jim Colborn from Milwaukee, but perhaps that's not as bad as it sounds. Consider the teams they played for. Kansas City won 24 more games than Milwaukee. And the pitchers' earned-run averages weren't that far apart. And Colborn is more of a strikeout pitcher. So it might be an even-up swap in the long run.

And one man does not make up a rotation. Kansas City's still got most of the men who gave the Royals the second-best staff in the league—Paul Splittorff, Marty Pattin, Steve Mingori, Doug Bird and Dennis Leonard. And if Steve Busby is healthy again, that's a major shot in the arm.

When the Royals got Colborn, they also got Darrell Porter, who could strengthen the catching. The rest of the field remains pretty sound with players like George Brett, John Mayberry, Fred Patek, Amos Otis and Hal McRae. New arrivals Pete LaCock from the Chicago

Cubs and Bob Heise from Boston may chip in.

The Rangers, a lot of people believe, built themselves the nucleus of an improved team in the massive deal that sent Jeff Burroughs to Atlanta. Ken Henderson, one of the former Braves, will replace him in right field, and will probably supply just about as much power at the plate.

Dave May, an outfielder with potential punch, and Carl Morton, Roger Moret and Adrian Devine, a trio of respectable pitchers, were the others in the trade.

If help has really arrived, though, it'll probably be from free-agent shortstop Bert Campaneris, outfielder Claudell Washington and pitchers Paul Lindblad and Doyle Alexander. Campaneris' arrival permits Toby Harrah to move into a more comfortable slot at third. Those two changes should settle down an infield that gave up errors by the bushels.

Minnesota's got its own nucleus, and a fairly young one, in pitchers Pete Redfern and Eddie Bane, catcher Butch Wynegar, infielders Mike Cabbage and Ray Smalley and outfielder Dan Ford. But that pitching may have been severely damaged by the departure of relief ace Bill Campbell to Boston. Campbell was the Twins' workhorse and by far their most effective hurler, amassing 17 victories and 20 saves. He'll be hard to replace.

It would, at first glance, seem impossible to replace all the talent that fled Charlie Finley's A's. Oakland, only a few years ago the newest applicant for recognition as a dynasty, is now rated by the experts as a rank outsider.

It certainly doesn't look rosy for new Manager Jack McKeon—but then it may not be all that bleak, either.

The team didn't lose any starters. Vida Blue and Mike Torrez are two solid ones, Mike Norris and Paul Mitchell may be ready to emerge and Joe Coleman and Doc Medich will almost surely help out. The departure of Rollie Fingers and Lindblad had to hurt—but not so much, considering Dave Giusti's arrival. Catcher Manny Sanguillen will give that staff a boost. So will his bat.

A few of last year's big names are still there—like Blue, Torrez and outfielder Bill North. And if Dick Allen can concentrate on baseball instead of controversy, he may give Oakland a massive infusion of confidence. Also aboard is catcher-first baseman Earl Williams, picked up from Montreal.

The new names like Tommy Sandt, Derek Bryant, Ray Cooney and Dennis Walling are meaningless now. But one never knows what kinds of gloves and bats are lurking in those young prospects.

Bob Lemon is Chicago's new manager. What he's got to work with isn't much. Will pitcher Wilbur Wood make it back from a broken kneecap? Will Eric Soderholm, formerly of the Twins, come back from a completely inactive season, also due to a bad knee? Will Richie Zisk bring from Pittsburgh a potent bat? There are an awful lot of questions. The answer seems to be that it'll take an awful lot of comebacks to bring the White Sox back to respectability.

Respectability is one thing. Seattle doesn't have to look forward to. As in all expansions, an occasional decent name crops up on a roster of players who are either over the hill or haven't even started to climb it.

Manager Darrell Johnson can find a ray of hope in a few names—outfielders Steve Braun and Lee Stanton, infielders Dan Meyer and Joe Lis and pitcher Dick Pole.

For the most part, though, these Mariners are on a season-long shakedown cruise. Let's hope they won't be too shaken up.

Few More McGuires Would Be Boon For College Athletics

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing wrong with college sports that a few more Al McGuires wouldn't cure.

Gusts of fresh air swept through the TV tubes Monday night when Al McGuire's Marquette team beat the University of North Carolina for the NCAA basketball championship.

It wasn't that North Carolina or its highly-respected coach — Dean Smith, who brought back the Olympic gold medal from Montreal — was cast in a villainous role.

It was only that McGuire — volatile, emotional, earthy and without an ounce of pretentiousness — offered such a contrast to the normal high pressure and disciplined mold that it was difficult for the unbiased observer not to stand up on the living room chair and cheer.

All of us have been over-exposed to the martinet, the Marine syndrome — barking orders, cracking the whip and treating the game as if it were a war.

The late Vince Lombardi became the revered symbol of this approach when, in the midst of winning two Super Bowl titles with his Green Bay Packers, he said, "Winning isn't everything — it is the only thing."

First Appearance

BOSTON (AP) — Steve Cauten, the sensational apprentice jockey, will ride at Suffolk Downs Sunday in his first New England appearance. The 16-year-old Kentucky native is expected to have seven or eight mounts. He has won 132 races in 51 days and prize money totaling more than $2.5 million.

His words have been carved in stone. But some of the men who played for him idolized him. Others called him a heartless, unfeeling brute. It depended on who measured up to his lofty standards. He had no sympathy for the weak.

Ohio State's legendary Woody Hayes can be a warm, pleasant human being at a cocktail party or in the living room. Put him on the football field in a critical game and he often reverts to a madman — tearing his shirt, smashing his wrist watch and belting photographers.

"Win, win, win!"

"Kill, kill, kill!"

These are cries heard often on our playing fields. Among the pros, who have made it their business, it perhaps can be tolerated. Among fuzzi-faced college kids, it is inexcusable.

McGuire, 48, one of the street-fighting McGuire brothers of New York's Far Rockaway Beach, puts the sport into proper perspective.

"Winning is only important," he says, "in war and surgery."

The millions of fans who watched the Marquette coach's sideline histrionics on television could not help being intrigued by the informality of it all.

McGuire paced in front of the bench, yelling and making hand signals. In huddles, players were seen arguing with their coach in seemingly heated tones.

One wondered: Would Indiana's stern Bobby Knight have stood for that?

"They argue when we are 15 points ahead," McGuire explains. "When the score is close, they listen with their mouths shut."

The youngish-looking Irishman, quick with the quip, disdains his own importance as head coach.

Angry Heinsohn Blasts His Club For Improper Attitude

By The Associated Press
For the 36th time this season, Coach Tom Heinsohn was explaining why his Boston Celtics lost a National Basketball Association game — which may have made him angry, since he only had to do that 28 times during all of the 1975-76 championship season. He was bristling after his team's play Tuesday night in a 110-82 loss to the Cleveland Cavaliers.

"My team is getting into a bad habit of playing any kind of basketball and thinking we can get back in the second half," he said with the well-known Heinsohn scowl. "I don't like my team's attitude. We played a bummers last week, too. That's why I'm perturbed."

"When you get to this time of the season, you can come up with all kinds of alibis. We were just not mentally ready to play basketball. There's no excuse."

The Celtics could have used a few excuses in the third quarter, when Austin Carr and Jim Chones combined for 26 points to put Boston away. Carr wound up with 24 points, including 14 in the third period, and Chones had 20.

In other NBA games, the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Chicago Bulls 119-113, clinching the Atlantic Division title; the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Seattle SuperSonics 100-97, clinching the Pacific Division crown; the Portland Trail Blazers buried the Buffalo Braves 127-101; the Golden State Warriors dropped the Houston Rockets 109-92; the New Orleans Jazz defeated the New York Nets 94-85; the Phoenix Suns drubbed the Milwaukee Bucks 122-110; the San Antonio Spurs topped the Washington Bullets 122-116; the Kansas City Kings topped the New York Knicks 132-126, and the Denver Rockets defeated the Indiana Pacers 119-105.

76ers 119, Bulls 113
Julius Erving scored half of his 28 points in a furious fourth quarter spree for Philadelphia.

Chicago's Mickey Johnson scored 37 points, but aided by the outside shooting of Doug Collins, Philadelphia dealt the Bulls their first loss in nine games and only the second loss in their last 17 contests. The defeat dropped the Bulls to fourth place in the Midwest Division, one-half game behind Kansas City in the battle for the final spot in the Western Conference playoffs.

Lakers 100, SuperSonics 97
Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 29 points helped Los Angeles beat Seattle and clinch its third Pacific Division crown since 1974.

Trail Blazers 127, Braves 101
Lionel Hollins scored 26 points for Portland and Bill Walton had 16 points, 16 rebounds and five blocked shots, pacing the Trail Blazers' rout of Buffalo.

Nuggets 119, Pacers 105
David Thompson's 22 points paced five Denver players in double figures as the Nuggets beat Indiana and clinched a playoff spot in their first NBA season.

Jazz 94, Nets 85
Pete Maravich had 26 points and Jim McElroy 20, leading streaking New Orleans past the Nets for the Jazz' sixth straight victory — matching the club record.

Cardinals Only One Man Over Opening Day Limit

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Acquired only a day earlier by St. Louis, Joel Youngblood made himself feel right at home Tuesday, hitting a home run to give the Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the Houston Astros.

The 375-foot, ninth-inning homer came on the first pitch by Ken Forsch, the third of three Houston pitchers.

"I looked for strikes," said Youngblood, who was acquired from the Cincinnati Reds in exchange for pitcher Bill Caudill. "I don't take pitches just to see what the pitcher is throwing."

Youngblood, who filled in at third base against the Astros, admits he still hasn't gotten over the shock of being traded.

"I had trouble sleeping last night," he said after Tuesday's game. "I don't have a place to live in St. Louis and I don't have any clothes. My wife took most of them to Cincinnati."

But the 25-year-old utility man should be able to find a place in the St. Louis area soon, since the Cardinals end their spring training session in eight days.

Cards manager Vern Rapp trimmed the squad to 26 Tuesday. With the disposition of three pitchers and an infielder, the Cards are just one man over the season opening limit.

Waivers were sought on right-handed pitcher Roric Harrison to give him his release, while Steve Dunning, also a right-hander, has been given the option of taking a demotion to the minors or being released.

Left-hander Mike Caldwell has been sent to the Cincinnati Reds in return for a player to be named later.

An infielder-outfielder Pat Scanlon was sent to the club's minor league camp for reassignment.

PHOENIX (AP) — The National Football League will have a more expensive and expansive look in 1978.

"Money," NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said with a wry smile Tuesday night, pinpointing the primary reason why the league voted to expand its regular season from 14 to 16 games (while cutting the preseason schedule from six to four games) and widening the playoff field from eight teams to 10 with two more wild card clubs.

In addition, the league gave Tampa Bay and Seattle, its two newest teams, permanent homes. It placed the Buccaneers in the National Conference Central Division with Minnesota, Chicago, Detroit and Green Bay, and put the Seahawks in the American Conference West with Oakland, Denver, San Diego and Kansas City.

Furthermore, the NFL disclosed a complex yet balanced scheduling system to prevent inequities and announced that the college player draft would be held May 3-4 in New York.

The votes on the 16-game schedule, the revised schedule formula and the placing of Tampa Bay and Seattle were 21-7, the minimum needed for approval. The addition of the two wild card teams was a unanimous 28-0 vote.

"Money, and not just television money, was the determining factor in adding two more games to the schedule and two more teams to the playoffs," said Rozelle.

"One of the basic reasons (for expanding the regular season) was the fact that a number of clubs have had difficulty selling the preseason games," he said, identifying Philadelphia and New England as two of the most vocal proponents of a 16-game season and a four-game exhibition slate.

"And we feel the addition of a second wild-card team will help keep the races competitive longer," he added.

"With all of this, the season'll start earlier and end later."

Under the expanded playoff format, the conference's two wild-card teams will meet in a first-round game while the other six teams (division winners in each conference) have a bye. In the second round, the surviving wild card team meets the winningest team and the No. 2 winner meets the No. 3 winner in each conference. The third round is for the conference title and the fourth round is the Super Bowl.

The playoff change is the first since the NFL merged with the old American Football League in 1970, creating the current two-conference, six-division layout with eight postseason berths. And not since 1961, when the NFL went from a 12-game schedule to 14, has there been a regular-season change.

Those two changes not only will increase revenues from tickets, but could come close to doubling the income from television. The current contract with the three networks, which brought the NFL about $60 million last year, expires after the 1977 season. A $100 million price tag for 1978 and beyond is not beyond speculation.

'Breds End Slump With 19 Hits, Get Two Wins

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
The noise of the jackhammers has been about the only thing penetrating the silence at Reagan Field lately.

Tuesday afternoon, the jackhammers took second place in the noise department. The loudest noise was the crack of baseball bat against baseball. Time and time again, the sound was heard and to Murray State baseball coach Johnny Reagan, it's about the most encouraging thing he's heard all season.

In the first game Tuesday, Murray State got just four hits as the 'Breds used the fine pitching of Mark Riggins to post a 5-1 win over North Dakota.

But in the nightcap, it was a battle between the jackhammers and the bats, with the bats winning out. Murray belted 19 hits, including a record 13 hits in the second inning, to pound Chicago Circle 17-6.

The two wins give the 'Breds a 15-4 season record.

The 19-hit attack may have been just what the doctor ordered for the 'Breds who have been having their problems at the plate. Everybody got into the act and it resembled one of those baseball machines you see in game rooms where you put a quarter in and watch the runs mount to unbelievable totals.

Chicago scored a single run in the first inning of the nightcap off junior southpaw Greg Tooley. Then in the home half of the first, Terry Brown got the run back with a solo shot to right-center.

Shortstop Stan Giesler opened the 'Breds second with a single and first sacker Bill Wagoner followed with a single. Third baseman Robin Courtney, who has been in a slump, then followed with a single to drive in Giesler and give Murray a 2-1 lead.

Tom Fehn singled to load the bases then Dan Teel reached on an error to make it 3-1. The first out of the inning came when Al Luigs bunted, forcing Courtney at the plate and again, leaving the bases loaded and still a 3-1 score on the board.

Brown made it 5-1 with a two-run single and John Siemanowski then singled to load the bases for red-hot Greg Tooley.

Tooley, who hit three homers last Thursday, tagged one into center for a grand slam and the 'Breds led 9-1. It was the sixth homer of the season for Tooley, who had six RBIs in the contest.

Still, the assault wasn't over. Giesler singled and Wagoner followed with a double. Then Courtney doubled for two runs before Fehn popped out for the second out of the inning.

Then Dan Teel joined in the homerun derby as he cracked a shot to left for a two-run blast, making it 13-1. Luigs followed with a double and Brown singled him in for the final run of the inning.

Murray added two more runs in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Cruise worked five complete innings and gave up four runs, three of which were earned. He allowed four hits and fanned six. Terry Brown hurled one hitless frame and struck out a batter while Mark Miller pitched the last inning, giving up two runs on three hits and striking out two.

Brown, Tooley and Wagoner all had three hits in the game. In the opening game against North Dakota, it was all Mark Riggins as the sophomore lefthander from Loogootee, Ind., gave up four hits, fanned 10 and walked none in one of the top mound efforts of the season for the 'Breds.

Riggins displayed beautiful control and his curve looked as if it were dropping off a table as it came dipping into the plate.

Three consecutive walks, a single by Mike Cathey and a groundout by Bruce Austin gave Murray two runs in the second.

Then in the fourth, Murray used a walk, an error, a single by Tooley and a groundout by Siemanowski to score three more runs. North Dakota scored a lone tally in the top of the sixth.

Murray will play North

Dakota and Chicago today. Chicago will leave after the game and Purdue and Brown will be in town Thursday and Friday, along with North Dakota which will stay until Friday.

Saturday, the 'Breds will have two games at Western Kentucky. The 'Breds will not have an off day until a week from Thursday.

Raymonds Says Warrior Recruiting Behind Pace

By MIKE O'BRIEN
AP Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The telephone rang incessantly Tuesday in the office of Marquette's haggard Hank Raymonds, incoming head coach of college basketball's new national champions.

Many of the callers were well wishers, congratulating Raymonds for the Warriors' 67-59 championship game victory over North Carolina Monday night. But most of the calls involved Raymonds' off-court duties, which have substantially backlogged while Marquette competed for three weeks in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament.

"The work is just beginning," said Raymonds, the dark circles under his eyes mirroring not only tournament fatigue but his first full day as Al McGuire's successor as head coach.

"We're behind in recruiting," said Raymonds, McGuire's assistant at Marquette for 13 seasons. "Don't get me wrong. Our goal was to win the national championship in Al's last year. But because of the tournament, we haven't had time to be running around."

Raymonds would like to believe the national title will be an asset in recruiting, but he is not so sure.

"I'm going to talk to prospects we had talked to before and tell them, 'Hey, we wanted you before we were national champions,'" he said. "Now, if a youngster calls who's very good and who hasn't been contacted by us, we'd be very interested. But I doubt that will happen."

Raymonds said most blue-chip players graduating from high school want to start as college freshmen. That will not be easy next season at Marquette, which has three starters returning.

"I don't mind them wanting to start right away," Raymonds said. "But I don't want them pointing at the roster, trying to figure out whether they can or not. We want players who want to play no matter who we have already."

Recruiting is not Raymonds' only concern. He also is McGuire's successor as athletic director. Marquette sports other than basketball demand his attention and he must screen applicants for a new basketball assistant coach.

"I have to continue working on our other sports, and I've proposed a five-year plan to upgrade them," he said. "That's one of the things I wanted when I took the job, and the school has given me assurances."

But while Raymonds' workload is heavy at a time when he could use a few days off, he insists he feels no pressure about having to follow the act of McGuire, one of the most colorful and successful figures in sports.

"I don't feel any more pressure now than if Al hadn't left," he said. "We still would have the same amount of work to do. I've been part of the program here. I feel if someone from outside were brought in to succeed Al, he'd be dead."

TO ALL OF THE PEOPLE OF MURRAY AND CALLOWAY COUNTY:

For many years, I have had a burning desire to serve YOU as County Clerk. Therefore, I have filed as a candidate for County Court Clerk of Calloway County, subject to the Democratic Primary election to be held May 24, 1977.

I feel that most of you good people know me and know of my qualifications. However, for the benefit of you who are not personally acquainted with me, I humbly submit the following facts for your consideration.

*I am 48 years of age and the Daughter of Pat and Ola Pittman Falwell.

*Graduate of Almo High School

*Attended Murray State University

*Taught school in the Calloway County School System.

*For the past 28 years, I have served as Secretary of Almo High School, Calloway County High School, and as Bookkeeper and Treasurer of the Calloway County Board of Education.

*Part time work has been with the office of County Clerk, Tax Commissioner's Office, The Liberty Food Market and the Kroger Company.

*Active member of Poplar Springs Baptist Church.

If I am elected YOUR COUNTY CLERK, I give you my word of honor that the duties of the Clerk's office will be carried on in a fair, courteous and dignified manner. Every person, rich or poor, white or black, will be given the same kind and efficient service.

I NEED THE OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK. I WANT YOUR HELP.

Sincerely,
Lorene Falwell

'Giant Of Jazz' Stan Kenton To Appear In Concert At MSU

Stan Kenton, a major contributor to the contemporary American musical scene who is sometimes described as "a giant of jazz," will appear with his orchestra at Murray State University on Tuesday evening, April 12.

He and his 19-piece orchestra will present a concert that will begin at 8 p. m. in Lovett Auditorium. The Gamma Delta chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is sponsoring the program.

Since he organized his first orchestra in 1941, Kenton's style of music has ranged from popular and dance to progressive jazz to contemporary innovations. As early as the 1940s, "Variety" called his orchestra "the hottest box office attraction in the country."

Versatility in the Kenton sound has been a direct result of the belief he has often expressed that people should reach out for all that's new in the world of music so that they do not deny themselves the stimulation of the continuing creative growth process.

His contention that the creative act cannot be "frozen in time" is borne out by an observation he once offered: "I can describe my pet peeve in one word: Nostalgia!"

From the instant recognition his orchestra achieved with the "new big band sound" in the early 1940s and throughout his career, Kenton has been known around the world for his progressive approach to music. He has taken his orchestras to England and Europe seven times and to Australia, Japan, and Mexico.

In 1966, he began conducting clinics and workshops for music students and educators in colleges and universities across the country, often as many as 150 in a year. And in 1970, he established Creative World, his direct mail firm, in order to make his own and other fine jazz available to more people.

His work now involves personal appearances and recordings with his orchestra in the United States and Europe, clinics in high schools and colleges and universities, and work with Creative World to broaden his outlet for Kenton recordings and to make the Kenton library available to music educators and student bands.

Tickets for the Kenton Orchestra concert on April 12 may be purchased in the Department of Music Office in the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center at Murray State. Prices are $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for college students, and $2.50 for each high school student in groups of 12 or more.

Mail orders should contain a stamped, self-addressed envelope with a check for the proper amount made out to Phi Mu Alpha and be sent to: Department of Music, Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071.

Electric & Gas Bill High!

Did you know that plastic installed underneath your home could sharply decrease your heating bill? We paint and repair the outside of our home, but never think of the damage underneath. Cold air and dampness with proper ventilation will not penetrate plastic. It will also help protect against termites, rot, fungi and other diseases and insects. We treat for insects and fungi - install plastic and ventilation. Call for FREE information and inspection.

Funerals

Funeral Is Today At Local Chapel For Mrs. Johnston

The funeral for Mrs. Eura Mae Johnston of 808 Hurt Street, Murray, is being held today at two p. m. at the chapel of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Coy Garrett and the Rev. Allie D. Rudolph officiating and Mrs. J. W. Jones as organist.

Serving as pallbearers are Enoch Jones, Thomas Scruggs, Roy Vaughn, John D. Hopkins, LeLyon Strader, and Ralph Goodwin. Burial will follow in the Union Ridge Cemetery.

Mrs. Johnston, age 83, wife of Cherry G. Johnston who died in July 1961, died Monday at 9:05 p. m. at the Cedar Crest Nursing Home, Possum Trot. She was a member of the Hazel United Methodist Church and the daughter of the late Allen and Nancy Lovett Jones.

MSU Coed Is Award Recipient

Sylvia Payne, 24, a senior at Murray State University from Owensboro, has been awarded one of this year's Grawemeyer Awards, which are given annually by the University of Louisville's Department of Modern Languages.

A German and English major at the university, Miss Payne will receive $725 for a six-week period of travel and study in Europe in the late summer.

Her selection for the award was made on the basis of her paper, "The Numerus Clausus in Germany." It deals with a German program in which the number of students admitted to colleges and universities is limited in certain fields. Her award will be used for research work in this field with all her interviews being conducted in the German language.

The daughter of Mrs. Julia Payne, 2007 Clinton Place, Owensboro, and Arthur L. Payne, 4325 Windsor Court, Topeka, Kan., Miss Payne has been on the Dean's List every semester she has been at Murray State.

She is a member of Alpha Chi, a scholastic honor society at the university, and plans to continue her education toward a doctoral degree in preparation for a career of teaching English on the college level.

She is a graduate of Owensboro High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society and won the Foreign Language Award in her senior year.

Guest speaker at the spring revival, April 4-10 at the Emmanuel Independent Baptist Church, 121 Bypass at North 16th Street, Murray, will be Bro. Leonard Young of Cadiz. Services will be at 7:30 nightly with Paul McWheeler as song leader and Mrs. Jackie Hill as pianist. The church pastor, Bro. Grandville Courtney, invites the public to attend.

Carroll Pledges To Improve Education

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Julian Carroll has pledged to improve the quality of education in Kentucky, but says he has no intention of raising taxes to accomplish that goal.

Carroll told the steering committee of the Governor's Task Force on Education Tuesday that he believes additional money for educational quality can be obtained by eliminating ineffective and inappropriate programs.

"I have no intention of saying that we need more taxes for better education," Carroll said. "That's the coward's way out. I'm not sure people would stand for it, or that they could afford it."

Carroll told 37 members of the steering committee, meeting here for the first time, that improving education is a top priority of his administration. The task force was created by executive order to map the future of education in Kentucky.

"Whatever help you need—resources, staff or time—you've got it," Carroll told the group, "because I don't have any more important task."

He said no one has ever attempted as comprehensive a review of education in

Dr. Lawson To Be On Comment Panel

Dr. Anita Lawson, associate professor of English at Murray State University, will be a panelist on the Kentucky Educational Television (KET) program entitled "Comment on Kentucky" to be broadcast at 6:30 p. m. on Friday, April 1.

The KET show is moderated by Al Smith, editor and publisher of the News-Democrat in Russellville. Other panelists will be Carol Sutton, assistant to the publisher of the Courier-Journal in Louisville, and Sandra Early, of the news department of WKYT-TV in Lexington.

Dr. Lawson, who joined the faculty at Murray State in 1970, earned the Ph. D. degree at Tulane University in 1971. Her husband is Dr. Hughie G. Lawson, associate professor of history.

State Request For Disaster Aid Rejected, Harris Says

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—State Agriculture Commissioner Tom Harris said today that Kentucky's request for federal disaster assistance has been rejected.

"This means that in spite of the fact that Kentucky farmers suffered crushing financial losses due to the most severe weather in the last 177 years, there are no federal programs that will reimburse them," he said.

However, the commissioner

Art Works Chosen For Show At MSU

A total of 95 pieces of original student art work have been selected for the annual Student Art Show to be on exhibit at Murray State University April 15-May 11. Sponsored by the Organization of Murray Art Students (OMAS), the show will include drawings, paintings, prints, photography, jewelry, textiles, ceramics, and sculpture. Pieces for the show were selected from among 263 entries.

A total of $1,100 in awards, plus purchase awards and honorable mention recognition, will be presented to the student artists.

Jurors for the show were Denise Green of New York City, a professional painter, and Jim Zanzi, sculptor and teacher at the Art Institute of Chicago.

Gene Karraker of Paducah, a senior design materials major, is the president of OMAS.

Don Stephens of Lexington, executive director of the task force, outlined issues developed by his staff over the last three months.

The former state legislator said about 600 persons would be asked to serve on 33 different subcommittees, each dealing with a different topic related to education.

About 300 persons will serve as delegates to a conference in Lexington seven months from now, to discuss subcommittee reports and make recommendations for legislation.

Carroll told the task force members that speed is of the essence because their recommendations must be ready before the General Assembly convenes.

Details Of Discovery Of Rings Around Uranus Announced

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP)—Scientists say they have made the first major structural discovery in the solar system in nearly 50 years—the cold, mysterious planet of Uranus has rings like Saturn.

Until now, Saturn was the only one of the nine known planets encircled by rings of space particles.

"The possibility of the rings had been vaguely speculated before, but the discovery caught everyone by surprise," Dr. James Elliott, a space researcher at Cornell University, said of the discovery, details of which were announced today at a news conference.

Elliott and his co-workers were studying the stars around Uranus, seventh planet from the sun, when they spotted the five thin rings.

The team was working in an airborne laboratory 41,000 feet aloft. The aircraft, operated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center here, was flying over the southern Indian Ocean when the sighting was made on March 10.

The rings weren't seen earlier, Elliott explained in an interview, because light reflected from the planet is

GOV. JULIAN CARROLL presents a proclamation declaring April "Cancer Control Month" to Robert F. Watts, left, and Mrs. Leroy Fincham. In the proclamation, Gov. usually so bright it obscures the ring's lesser reflections.

He said the plane's altitude and position on the nightside of the Earth provided just the right combination of light conditions for observing the heretofore unseen rings.

After the first reports of their discovery, observatories around the world were told the conditions under which the rings could be spotted and were asked to confirm the finding.

Last week, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said an Indian astronomer saw the rings from an observatory near New Delhi. And an astronomer from the University of Arizona also sighted the rings from an observatory near Perth, Australia.

Elliott said the rings are similar to the famed colored rings around Saturn, but are much thinner. He named them after the first five letters of the Greek alphabet, alpha, beta, gamma, delta and epsilon.

Keller Completes Monograph As Part Of ERIC Program

Dr. Howard H. Keller, associate professor in the Department of Foreign Languages at Murray State University, has completed a monograph which will become a part of the ERIC microfilm resources.

Entitled "Vocabulary Presentation and Review: Some Variations on a Theme," the monograph was prepared on the basis of a contract with the Center for Applied Linguistics in Washington, D. C.

To appear in a series entitled "Studies in Languages and Linguistics," the study surveys three alternatives for teaching vocabulary—the root approach, the etymological-mnemonic approach, and the topical vocabulary checklist approach.

Keller joined the faculty at Murray State in 1970.

The Rev. David Butler, right, will be the speaker at the Youth-Led revival at the Sinking Spring Baptist Church to be held Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p. m. and at the regular hours on Sunday. Directing the music will be Tommy Scott, minister of music and youth of the church. The Rev. Butler, a graduate of Murray State University and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, is now serving on the staff of Ninth and O Baptist Church, Louisville. He is married to the former Gayle Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of Murray. Mrs. Tommy Scott will be pianist and Miss Judy Hughes will be organist. The church nursery will be open. A youth fellowship period will be held following the services on Friday evening.

Green Plain Church Will Hear Five Persons Speak

The Green Plain Church of Christ will hold a gospel meeting starting Sunday, April 3, and continuing through Wednesday, April 6, with five different speakers discussing the general theme, II Peter 3:11, "What Manner Of Persons Ought Ye To Be."

E. Ray Jenkins of Nashville, Tenn., will speak Sunday at ten a. m. on "His Promise—New Heavens and A New Earth," and at 10:45 a. m. on "The Words Spoken By The Holy Prophets, And—Apostles."

On Sunday at six p. m. Terry Walters of Fairdealing will speak on "The Day Of The Lord."

Services Monday through Wednesday will be at 7:30 p. m. with Mike Kiser of Union City, Tenn., to speak Monday on "The Beginning Of The Creation," Robert Taylor of Ripley, Tenn., to speak Tuesday on "Being Led Away With The Error Of The Wicked," J. Noel Meredith of Camden, Tenn., to speak Wednesday on "By Way of Remembrance." The church is located south of Murray on the Old Murray-Paris Road. The public is invited to attend and transportation will be available by calling 492-8206, a spokesman said.

Bluegrass Festival
The Bluegrass Festival will be held at the Expo Center from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday. Contestants will be competing for first, second and third place prize money in each of four divisions.

The divisions for the contest will be fiddlers, banjo pickers, male singers, and best band. The top three winners in the fiddler, banjo and singing competition will receive $20, $15 and $10. The top three Bluegrass bands will receive $30, $20 and $15 in prize money.

Anyone desiring additional information on the contest should contact Kenneth Cleaver at 753-5942.

Bean Lunch—Auto Show
The bean, ham hock and cornbread lunch will be served from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Expo Center. The cost of the plate, which will include a drink, will be $2. Bill Rouse is chairman of the luncheon.

The Antique Auto Show will be on the grounds of the Expo Center all day Saturday.

Members of the Optimist Club, along with the Calloway County Athletic Booster Club and other volunteers, are contributing their time to the event. The Optimist urged everyone to come out to the center to see the World's Largest Popcorn Ball and enjoy the free popcorn and many scheduled events.

Tenn-Tom.

Transportation benefits from the Tenn-Tom are national in scope. The latest estimate of direct benefits total more than $94 million on an average annual basis.

The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Authority, headquartered in Columbus, was formed by an interstate compact in 1958. Members of the compact are Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Florida, and Kentucky. The authority has a 30-member board of directors from the five states. The Kentucky members are, in addition to Enix, Gov. Julian Carroll, Alex Chamberlain of Louisville, Ed Paxton of Paducah, John Hay of Cadiz, and Rep. James Yates of Shively.

Enix said today that the Kentucky members will be among those who will go to Washington for an April 4 hearing on budgeting and appropriations. Carter is expected to make a decision on the matter in mid-April.

Thousands With Overdue Bills Face Having Utilities Cut Off

By RHONDA SEEGAL
AP Business Writer

Thousands of Americans unable to pay higher heating bills during the unusually cold winter are being threatened with loss of service if they don't pay soon.

Many utilities, allowing a grace period because of the cold winter, postponed service shutoffs until the end of the heating season.

But the end of the season is at hand, and an Associated Press survey found that notices warning of electric and gas shutoffs are in the mail to thousands of Americans.

The number of overdue bills ranged from 3 per cent to 20 per cent more than last year, the utilities reported. Some utilities and state agencies are trying to find solutions short of cutoff for those who can't pay.

"We'll start catching up with the winter leftovers and our termination will reach a thousand a month or more," according to a spokesman for the Public Service Co. in New Hampshire, the state's largest supplier of electric power. It usually terminates about 250 customers a month in winter.

In a number of states, utilities had to comply with state-imposed moratoriums against cutting off heat to households.

But by March 31, generally considered the end of the heating season, most will have ended and service cutoffs can be enforced.

A number of states and cities are working with federal agencies to make money available to the needy, either in the form of loans or grants. The average household had to pay $139 more to keep warm this winter than last, a Senate subcommittee concluded in a study.

In Connecticut, for example, Gov. Ella Grasso set aside $250,000 to be used to pay emergency fuel needs of the 40,000 families eligible for Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Here are some of the hardest-hit areas where families, particularly the poor in northern states, will have to find some way to pay:

—In Rhode Island, the moratorium was lifted last week. The Providence Gas Co. said it is sending out about 400 warning notices per day. The company said about 40 per cent of its customers have overdue accounts.

—In Pennsylvania, the Public Utility Commission (PUC) called off its two-month-old moratorium on terminations, effective March 31. Fifteen major gas and electric utilities report 600,000 of about 4.7 million customers are behind in their payments.

—In Ohio, a Public Utilities Commission order on Jan. 25, 1977, prohibited gas utility shutoffs until March 31. The ban on cutoffs ended March 20 for East Ohio Gas, which has sent out 50,000 delinquency letters.

—The Wisconsin Gas Co. of Milwaukee has sent out 25,000 disconnect notices that will take effect April 22, the day after the state's moratorium on fuel cutoffs ends.

—The Potomac Electric Co., which supplies electricity to the District of Columbia, resumed cutoffs this week. Eight per cent of its accounts in February were delinquent, compared with 5 per cent in February, 1976.

Most utilities insist that customers will have a chance to straighten out their finances before they lose their power.

Violent Crime Declines In Virtually Every Corner Of Nation Figures Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — Violent crime declined in virtually every corner of the country last year, but a surge in thefts in some big cities prevented the over-all national crime rate from falling, the FBI reports.

Preliminary statistics for 1976 show no change from the previous year in the number of crimes reported to state and local police. It marked the first time in five years that the crime rate did not increase.

The number of murders across the country dropped 10 per cent, and a decline in the murder rate was reported in every population category and in all geographic regions.

The FBI issued the report today.

Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell called the statistics "an encouraging sign for the criminal justice system and for the public."

But he added, "We must not ease our efforts in this struggle, because the incidence of crime still remains far too high."

Though the over-all rate held steady and violent crimes declined, stealing rose 5 per cent nationally and by much higher percentages in some cities. In Houston a startling 42 per cent increase in larceny and theft was reported.

The FBI compiles the figures from data submitted by more than 9,000 law enforcement agencies. The statistics cover only the murders, rapes, robberies, assaults, burglaries, thefts and motor vehicle thefts reported to police.

Other studies have indicated that many crimes never are reported to authorities.

The FBI keeps no national statistical summary of such crimes as arson, fraud, embezzlement and other white-collar offenses.

The preliminary report includes actual crime figures for 166 cities with 100,000 or more residents and percentages for the nation and for various population and geographic regions.

The final 1976 report due in the fall contains the raw figures for the nation and more detail about the nature of the crimes.

Of the seven crimes measured, only the category of larceny and theft reflected an increase. It was up 5 per cent from the 1975 figures. The category includes shoplifting, purse-snatching, thefts of bicycles, and thefts of such items as CB radios and stereo tape decks from automobiles.

Larceny increased the most

— 10 per cent — in cities of one million or more. The increase hovered around 5 per cent in smaller cities. Larceny rose 12 per cent in the Northeast and from 1 to 3 per cent elsewhere.

The rise in big-city larceny, and in some locations burglaries and vehicle thefts as well, left some cities with over-all increases in their crime rates.

The figures showed a 15 per cent over-all increase in Houston, 13 per cent in New York, and 20 per cent in San Francisco.

But the over-all rate declined 9 per cent in Chicago and Washington, 8 per cent in Philadelphia, and 1 per cent in Los Angeles and Detroit.

Forest Fire Fighters Hard At Work

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Forest fire fighters who hoped thunderstorms would give them a breather after the worst weekend for woodland fires this spring were disappointed and hard at work again as the week began.

By the time the storms reached eastern Kentucky Monday, the rains had tapered off, leaving only blustery winds to fan the flames and keep fire-spotter planes on the ground.

"The winds are playing havoc with us," said Charles Prather, fire control chief for the state Division of Forestry.

Lionel Johnson, the U.S. Forest Service official in charge of fire control in the Daniel Boone National Forest, said the gusts were so severe "we can't get a plane up to look."

Johnson said fire crews hoped for a rest when thunderstorms were predicted Monday. "They used to say a rainy day is a ranger's sunny day. It's the only time we can take a day off," he said.

But only two-hundredths of an inch of rain fell at the southern end of the national forest before skies began to clear again. By midafternoon, Johnson said, "We're beeping up again."

He said 40 forest service firefighters from Virginia were joining the crews at the Daniel Boone forest.

A power outage at London caused radio problems, and Johnson had no estimate on the number of fires burning Monday.

"A lot," he said. "And most of them are probably unmanned. The crews are just plumb worn out. Our boys have been going for two or three days now.

"We had a rough time over the weekend, about as bad as we've ever had it," Johnson said.

Johnson and Prather said weekend rains, like those Monday, tapered off before reaching the eastern part of the state.

The state Forestry Division had 670 people working on fire lines Saturday, battling 153 fires that swept over 4,239 acres, Prather said.

He said 660 persons were at work Sunday fighting 91 wind-driven blazes that charred 3,311 acres. A fire in Magoffin County, near Salyersville, burned 250 acres before it was brought under control.

He said the rising winds had officials "on pins and needles" Monday. Reports on the number of fires Monday will reach Forestry Division headquarters today.

Johnson said there were at least two dozen fires in the national forest over the weekend — ranging in size from one acre to 300 acres.

The forest service used its Knoxville-based converted B-17 bomber to drop fire retardants on the blazes Sunday morning, but by late Sunday and early Monday, Johnson said, "we couldn't get the air tanker, the winds were too high."

"We had one spotter plane up last night and it got to the point there were so many fires in eastern Kentucky the pilot couldn't distinguish one from another. Now we can't get a plane up to look," Johnson said.

Award To Peter Finch Steals Show At Academy Awards

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A scathing satire on the television industry, a cinderella tale of a second-rate boxer's reach for the top and a Watergate detective story took most of the Oscars at the 49th Academy Awards, but Peter Finch stole the show.

"Finchie," as the film community affectionately knew the late actor, was posthumously honored with the best actor Oscar for his portrayal of a mad broadcaster in "Network." In the most poignant moment of Monday night's nationally-telecast awards show, Liv Ullmann opened the Best Actor envelope and read, "Peter Finch, for 'Network.'"

The crowd at the packed Music Center roared its approval, as Finch, who died of a heart attack Jan. 14, became the first actor ever to win the award posthumously.

Faye Dunaway won the best actress award for her blistering performance as the hard-driving "Network" executive who sacrificed all for success.

The Oscar for the best picture went to "Rocky," which was made for a "cheap" $1 million and featured a then-unknown leading man — Sylvester Stallone. The story of a down-and-out fighter's shot at the heavyweight title also won a director's Oscar for John G. Avildsen and another for best film editing.

Some critics said the affair lacked some of the excitement of past Oscar nights, but that was in part by design. "Exorcist" director William Friedkin, who produced this year's show, cut down on some of the onstage chit-chat and offstage glitter in an effort to produce a more dignified show.

What he got was a more dignified show that dragged in parts.

"It looks like we could have used some of that meaningless interchange," one Academy official mumbled in reference to Friedkin's move from two presenters to one.

Unlike last year, when "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" swept all the major categories, this year's homage by the film industry to itself lacked a big winner. "Network" and "All the President's Men," each with four statuettes, won the most. Stallone's "Rocky" took three Oscars.

"It was a classic case of timing, man and material," Stallone said in a backstage assessment of the film that at one time nobody wanted if he was to be part of the deal. Stallone, who wrote "Rocky," concealed whatever disappointment he may have felt at losing in the Best Actor category.

Asked if it was true that he wrote the enormously popular film in three days, the 30-year-old actor replied, "I wrote it in two days, but I didn't want to seem like a prodigy." Snappy work for a man who'd never seen a fight until he was 29.

Jason Robards, the actor who brought perfection to Eugene O'Neill material on stage, won an Oscar for his portrayal in "All the President's Men" of Ben Bradlee, the Washington Post's executive editor. It was Robards' first Oscar nomination.

Beatrice Straight, who lost husband William Holden to Faye Dunaway in "Network," was named best supporting actress. Miss Straight, who spent years on Broadway and did a stint in the quickly folded television show "Beacon Hill," won the Academy's honor on the basis of only two brief scenes in the film.

"I was stunned," the American-born, English-educated actress said backstage, "very stunned. I must have looked like an idiot up there."

"Network" also won an Oscar for Paddy Chayevsky, who wrote the original screenplay.

Despite this year's attempt at cutting what Friedkin had termed the "lackiness" of previous Oscar shows, there were some touching moments.

There were tears aplenty when, in accepting the best actor award for Finch, Paddy Chayevsky stepped to the microphone and said, "There's only one person who should accept this — Mrs. Peter Finch."

Amid a standing ovation, Finch's widow, Eletha, walked to the stage. With tears in her eyes she relayed a message she said her husband had wanted to give to the Academy.

"He said, 'Darling, if I win, I want to say thanks to my fellow actors who have given me encouragement through the years, to Paddy, who gave me this part ... and most of all, to you, darling, for sending me the right vibes.'"

Back stage, the actor's Jamaican-born widow said her husband had "wanted an Oscar between the teapots. So, I'm going to stick it there."

"Evergreen," Barbra Streisand's love song to Kris Kristofferson in "A Star Is Born," won an Oscar for Miss Streisand, who wrote the music, and Paul Williams, who wrote the lyrics.

Leonard Rosenman won an Oscar for his scoring adaptation of "Bound For Glory," while Jerry Goldsmith's score for "The Omen" won for original score.

William Goldman's screen adaptation of Robert Woodward and Carl Bernstein's "All the President's Men" won honors for best screenplay adapted from another medium.

A sleeper, "Black and White in Color," won the Oscar for best foreign language film. The Ivory Coast picture won over such highly-touted foreign movies as "Cousin, Cousine" and "Seven Beauties."

Courts Do Not Have To Be Placed On Same Floor, Kentucky Attorney General Rules

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Circuit courts and the new district courts do not have to be placed on the same floor or courtroom, the attorney general's office says.

It issued an interpretation Monday of the law which implements Kentucky's judicial article.

That article created a four-tier court system. The district courts replace other types next year.

The opinion has no force of law, but it is significant because it involves a potentially large expense for counties which must adjust to the new legal system.

Col. George Chinn, deputy director of the Kentucky Historical Society, raised the question and leaned on historical tradition.

He noted plans in Mercer County to house both the district and circuit court systems at Harrodsburg on the second floor of the courthouse.

Chinn said that, historically, the inferior (county and quarterly) courts are located on the first floor of the courthouse and the circuit court on the second floor in all of the state's 120 counties. He said:

"The separation by different floors had its origin as a symbol of equality for all of English justice in that a citizen on trial in the lower court had, upon entering the courthouse, visual evidence that there was a court above in the event justice had not been done."

"Hence the common expression, 'carried to a higher court.'"

Chinn said that because Harrodsburg prides itself as being the site where the first court of justice was established in Kentucky, it not only resents the abolition of a long-respected historic symbol, but questions its legality.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles Runyan replied:

"We can find nothing in the statutes enacted prior to House Bill 23 which implemented the judicial article dealing explicitly or implicitly with the matter of the relative physical locations of the county and circuit courts."

"In other words, there is nothing in the prior statutes suggesting that the two courts have to be on different floors of a courthouse or in the same floor."

"Such a legislative state, however, silently recognizes the ancient practice of maintaining the circuit and inferior courts on different floors of the courthouse, with the 'big' (circuit court) being on the second floor."

But, he added, they do have to be in the same courthouse unless the state Supreme Court orders otherwise.

Norman Lawson, an official with the Office of Judicial Planning, said the actual situation "is much more flexible than it sounds." He said there are a number of other potential locations for district courts, ranging from private businesses which can be rented to city facilities which can be borrowed at appropriate times.

"We have developed a whole series of plans on a county by county basis," Lawson said. "It includes how best to utilize facilities."

He said counties also have the option of using state-owned facilities under some type of lease arrangement.

It should be noted, Lawson said, that the law also calls for the new district courts "to be made available to the people" and he implied that any satisfactory system toward this goal would be valid.

"For the most part, our survey has found there are existing facilities of various types that can be used (without new construction)," Lawson said.

Can A Body Get A Bathroom Rebuilt?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe the unemployment figures. On one side, people are screaming they can't find jobs. And on the other side, just try to find someone to do carpentry, painting or remodeling.

We've been trying to get someone to add a bathroom to our house, and were told we will have to wait for at least six months. My sister tried to get someone to remodel her kitchen, and she hasn't had any luck, either.

Everyone who does work like that is "busy" and can't get to it for another six months at least. That doesn't sound to me like there are a lot of unemployed people who are eager to get to work. Where are they? Something is wrong somewhere, Abby.

PUZZLED IN FLORIDA

DEAR PUZZLED: National studies show an acute shortage of tradesmen capable (or willing) to undertake home repairs. Most of those qualified to do carpentry, painting or remodeling will accept only larger jobs. Few such craftsmen are to be found among the unemployed.

This particular shortage (estimated by the Wall Street Journal to be in the thousands) is causing a rush on community colleges and vocational schools by homeowners learning to do their own work.

DEAR ABBY: Bet you've never had a problem like mine. I'm in my middle 20s and I talk in my sleep.

It wouldn't be so bad, but my mother has a tendency to listen, and there are some things I'd prefer she didn't know about.

Is there something I can do about blabbing in my sleep? TIPPING MY MITT

DEAR TIPPING: Review your concerns. If you're worried about what you SAY in your sleep, better worry more about what you DO when you're awake.

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't help but laugh through my tears at the back and forth letters from THE OTHER WOMAN and THE DOCTOR'S WIFE in your column recently.

I have been both, and learned a lot from it. Mostly, I learned I don't want to be either. As long as I am "a doctor's wife" or "the other woman," I am not ME. And ME has got to come first.

Frankly, I think being ME first is important: to myself, yes, and to all the others whom I touch. I am a psychologist, a mother, a mother-in-law, an ex-wife, an ex-other woman, a dog-lover, a hobby nut, an undiscovered poet and lots more. But these are my roles, not the summation of ME. As long as we know we have certain roles to fulfill, we're OK. But when the role becomes the totality of ME, I'm in trouble. Because, when all is said and done, it's ME I live with 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

My advice to anyone who signs herself "the other woman" or "the doctor's wife": Honey, that ain't where it's at. And "it" is in you, your own special version. And when you know you, and you like you, baby, you're home free. ME IN CLEVELAND

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Proposed Restructuring Of Commerce Department Announced By McBrayer

CAVE CITY, Ky. — Kentucky commerce Commissioner W. Terry McBrayer announced a proposed restructuring of the commerce department that will emphasize serving Kentucky's industries.

At a March 24 meeting of the Kentucky Industrial Development Council (KIDC) at Park Mammoth Resort, McBrayer outlined a plan to change commerce so that the department will "become far more aggressive."

"Kentucky is our product and we have to sell it," McBrayer said. He told council members that the department will shift its emphasis from recruiting out-of-state industry to encouraging established Kentucky industries to expand and build new plants.

KIDC President J.C. Dixon Jr. presided at the first of four council meetings to be held this year. Along with McBrayer, Dixon's Tennessee counterpart, Jack Hutchison, president of the Tennessee Industrial Development Council, was a guest.

"Sixty-five to 80 per cent of the new jobs created in Kentucky each year come from expansions of existing industry rather than from new industry," McBrayer said. "That is why we absolutely have to work with our industries here and not neglect them as we have so often in the past."

"We intend to act — not react — to help our industries however we can," McBrayer explained. "We want to make them happy so they will expand their operations and build new plants here. Our people are going to knock on doors to find out how we can do that."

Proposed changes announced by McBrayer included:

—Changing the Community Services Division to the Division of Existing Industries. Commerce personnel will be assigned to specific Area Development Districts throughout the state to call on and work with industries in their districts.

—Dissolving the Business Development Division and assigning its personnel to the new Existing Industries Division. Because of the concentration of industry in the Louisville area, a personnel move will be made from Frankfort to Louisville.

—Closing the Lexington unit of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise (commerce officials say there has been no business for them in Lexington) and sending personnel into the Louisville, Western Kentucky and Northern Kentucky areas where minority business is heavy.

—Doubling the staff of the International Division in order to generate more foreign trade and "reverse investments" by foreign investors into Kentucky, and to attract foreign industry into the state.

—Improving the Kentucky Industrial Development Advisory Teams and emphasizing their importance to communities desiring help in attracting industry.

McBrayer told council members that he is particularly interested in assisting small companies to expand and increase job positions.

"We have neglected those companies with few employees, with no legal staff, as they tried to obtain necessary permits and get through red tape. Now the department will help them cut the red tape and, we hope, increase their profits," he said.

Another priority, McBrayer said, will be to deal with labor problems and promote the "best possible" labor-management relations.

"With the Department of Labor," he said, "the commerce department is sponsoring eight labor-management seminars around Kentucky with the help of the Associated Industries of Kentucky, our two departments will try to get companies and labor together to discuss the Occupational Safety and Health Act, Workman's Compensation, and other labor topics, so we can establish good communication."

The greater part of the meeting, which was centered around the Department of Commerce, was conducted by Commerce Deputy Commissioner Dr. Dick Robinson and featured presentations by division heads who explained their operations.

"We wanted to reeducate our old members," Dixon said, "and educate our new members as to commerce functions, since many of them will take part in development activities along with the Commerce Department."

KIDC members are engaged in industrial development work for utilities, transportation carriers, banks, contractors, chambers of commerce and various governmental and private development agencies and associations.

Following the commerce division presentations, KIDC held its business session. The next KIDC meeting is scheduled for May 3 and 4 at the Lake Malone Inn near Dunmore, Ky.

Carter Approves Hugh Package Of Military Construction Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, who calls past U.S. arms sales policy too unrestricted, cynical and dangerous, has approved $2 billion worth of military construction contracts and arms sales, primarily for NATO allies, administration sources say.

But the sources said Monday that Carter still is reviewing an additional $3 billion worth of military sales proposals.

Carter will notify Congress about his military sales decisions soon, one source said. The decisions are expected to be made public after the notification. Administration spokesman at the White House and in the State Department refused comment.

"The approval is primarily for construction projects already underway and for arms primarily for NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) countries," one source said.

Administration spokesman Jerrold L. Schecter at the National Security Council and Frederick Z. Brown at the State Department refused comment on the reported approval and on a Washington Post report that the approval is for:

—Howitzers and tanks for Israel.

—$500 million worth of construction contracts for Saudi Arabia.

—Jet fighters for Greece.

—Unspecified items for Jordan, Pakistan and Saudi Arabia.

"Our policy is under review," Brown said. "The President is making case by case decisions. As to specific amounts and any details, I have nothing to say."

Carter said during the campaign that U.S. arms sales, which totaled $8.3 billion last year, are too large and that the United States has become "the arms merchant of the world."

The Democratic candidate said at the time that U.S. policy, which earns U.S. contractors billions of dollars a year, was "almost completely unrestricted."

This, Carter said, is "a policy as cynical as it is dangerous." He pledged to work for a worldwide agreement to curb the trade in armaments.

At a news conference last Thursday, Carter listed limiting the sale of arms as one of the items on Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance's negotiating agenda in Moscow.

Man Arrested In Connection With Fire At Franklin, Ky.

FRANKLIN, Ky. (AP) — A 23-year-old Franklin man has been arrested in connection with a fire in a public housing project here that resulted in the deaths of two young brothers, police said.

Police said Terrell Hendley was ordered held without bond Monday after being charged with two counts of murder and one of arson. Hendley was taken to Madisonville, Ky. for a polygraph test, but the results were not announced.

brother, Josh, 2, died early Sunday when fire swept through the family's second floor apartment. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hatfield Jr., and another brother, Phil, 16 months old, escaped injury.

Fire Chief Bobby Turner said the fire started on the back porch of a ground-level apartment and quickly spread. Both he and Police Chief Bruce Slate said it appeared the fire was set deliberately.

KENTUCKY COMMERCE COMMISSIONER W. Terry McBrayer, left, and D. C. Dixon Jr., president of the Kentucky Industrial Development Council (KIDC), discuss a proposed restructuring of the Commerce Department that McBrayer announced earlier during a meeting of KIDC. The commerce commissioner plans to make the department "more aggressive" and emphasize the servicing of Kentucky's existing industries. The March 24 meeting, one of four this year, was centered around Department of Commerce operations.

Mid Model Year Sale On PONTIAC'S ALL-NEW FULL-SIZED CARS.

The most exciting news since Wide-Track.

The year was 1959. And Pontiac was making big news with its revolutionary new Wide-Track design. An important innovation that gave full-sized Pontiacs a smooth, stable ride. A Pontiac trademark ever since.

Wide-Track also played a role in Pontiac's rapidly growing reputation for great performance. Indeed, in one glorious year, 1960, Pontiac swept three major stock car championships: the NHRA Grand National, the Darlington 500 and the grueling Pike's Peak Hill Climb.

Years and several championships later, Pontiac was still combining that great performance with some of the hottest styling to ever come out of Detroit. Cars like the electrifying '66 Pontiac 2+2 with its 389 CID V-8.

Now for 1977, Pontiac is making history once again. With the most dramatically redesigned full-sized Pontiacs ever. It's the most exciting news since Wide-Track.
